WONDERFUL BINDU FAKIRS.

Some of Their Startling Illusions. Wonderful stories are told of the powers of the Hindu fakirs. Careful attention to their tricks has not discovered their secret with any certainty, but Capt. James Parker, the Eng- 10:00 a.m. Song and prayer service. lish traveler, who has just returned 10:10 " The question of tithing from a tour of India, gives it as his belief that hypnotism is the means by which they accomplish their most startling illusions. One incident which he describes seems to bear out-

The trick which is acknowledged to be the greatest of these Hindu mystic performances, says Capt. Parker, and the one that has been described by trustworthy persons too often to be doubted, is the one in which the fakir throws a ball of twine into the air above him, until it disappears from sight. The loose ends of the string he holds in his hand, and after the boy assistant has climbed up the string until he, too, is out of sight, the fakir himself follows with a knife between Their astonisment is increased when the fakir 2:00 p.m. S. S. and C. E Institute. gathers the severed members and restores the boy to life.

Well, I saw this performance once, and once I didn't see it; and the latter | 2:30 experience was more wonderful than the other. I had some London friends visiting me, and after having left them for a few mittates on the veranda of 3:00 my bungalow, I saw, as I was returning, the same fakir and his assistant, whom I had seen perform the trick, standing about 40 feet in front of my friends, apparently preparing to begin a performance. As I was about as far behind the natives as my friends were in front of them, and had not been observed, I stood quietly where I

The man placed a drawn knife between his teeth, took the usual ball of twine in his right hand, made a motion as if throwing it into the air, and then stood perfectly quiet. My friends on the veranda were looking into the upper air with astonishment on their faces, which in a moment turned to a look of horror as their eyes came back to the ground. In another minute their countenances lighted up with pleasure, and they applauded roundly.

They could not say enough about the wonderful performance they had seen, and they were astonished beyond measure when I told them I had been as near the fakir as they had, and lad seen nothing of what had so wonder- ATTENDANCE AND TRANSPORTATION. fully impressed them.
